"Commercial banks now hold about one-fourth of the national debt," Doctor Stokes said, "and with the Federal Reserve included, the banks hold about one-third of the total debt."

"Public attention has focused upon the national debt because of its tremendous growth in the past generation and the fact that decisions made with respect to the public debt which is approximately $258 billions today affect significantly the economic and financial welfare of the whole country."

"The United States, with the possible exception of a few months in 1855 has never been out of debt. It

Wants Police Protection For Pedestrians

The Annie Danner club, one of two more organizations petitioning town council to retain the plot in Lincoln Square, also asks "police protection for pedestrians."

The two additional organizations favoring the retention of the plot and their protests against the removal are:

At a recent meeting of the Annie Danner club of the local YWCA a discussion was held concerning the removal of Lincoln Square plot.

It was unanimously agreed to suggest to you and your committee in Council to keep the square in its present condition and install traffic lights. Until such time that some action is taken, may we suggest police protection for pedestrians.

Trusting you will give this important matter your careful consideration, we remain

Respectfully yours,
Evelyn Pensyl, Secretary
Annie Danner Club

As requested by the Women's Civic Council, at its last meeting the WCTU considered the matter of removing the Lincoln Square plot.

The WCTU decided that since the plot is the only beauty spot in the town and since there is a remote possibility that a Lincoln monument may be placed there, and since it does not seem to be certain that the congestion of traffic would be ameliorated by the removal of the plot, we, therefore, as an organization, hope that the Lincoln Square plot may remain as it is.

Respectfully,
Mrs. Cora E. Berkey, Secretary
The Gettysburg W. C. T. U.

MAN KILLED BY TRAIN ENGINE

A Westminster man was killed instantly Tuesday afternoon when his truck was struck by a railroad locomotive near Spring Mills, Carroll county, Md.

The victim was Russell Samuel Conover, Sr., 32, of Westminster. Dr. James T. Marsh, Carroll county medical examiner, said he died of multiple injuries including a broken neck and crushed chest.

MRS. SIMMONS SUES FOR SON'S LIFE INSURANCE

The mother of Ray H. Simmons, electrocuted last January 9, for the murder of Herbert Humpert, 70-year-old Tyrone township farmer, today filed suit to collect her son's $10,000 national service life insurance.

Mrs. Elsie J. Simmons, of Mechanicsburg, brought the suit in federal court in Scranton. She points out that on November 29, 1943, her son applied for and received the $10,000 policy while in the military service. She further avers that after his death the Veterans administration refused payment.

Simmons died in the electric chair at Rockview penitentiary, Bellefonte, following his conviction in Adams county on a first degree murder charge for the Humpert slaying in March of 1947.

In a letter attached to the complaint, Paul E. Hussey, director, claims service, Veterans administration, wrote to counsel for Mrs. Simmons that under the provisions of the National Service Life Insurance act of 1940, insurance benefits in the case are not payable "by reason of the fact that the death by judicial electrocution precludes payments and all rights to this insurance."

The suit was filed by Attorney Thomas B. Caldwell of Harrisburg, who, with Attorney Richard S. Brown, represented Simmons on his trial here and on subsequent appeals from the conviction and death penalty.

700 PERSONS AT COUNTY DANCE

More than 700 attended the dance held Wednesday night at the South Mountain Fair grounds with Blue Barron's orchestra as the featured attraction.

Fair association officials said they were well pleased with the turnout and added that judging by ticket sales so far, attendance at the U. S. Air Forces band program to be held there November 29 will be even better.

The presentation of the Barron orchestra and the air forces band is part of a program being carried out by the fair association to bring the best in music to Adams county and at the same time, the organization hopes, some additional profits may be made to help defray the debt of the fair association established when it reorganized several years ago and carried out a program of modernizing and improving the fair grounds near Arendtsville.

A delay in the arrival of the Blue Barron band due to difficulties encountered by the group enroute, caused some people who had planned to attend the dance to go elsewhere. The larger percentage however, remained patiently until the band arrived about 9 o'clock.

Restaurateurs Favor Keeping Lincoln Plot

The Gettysburg Restaurant Association, at a meeting Wednesday night at 9 o'clock at the Shetter House, Chambersburg street, adopted a resolution favoring the retention of the center plot in Lincoln Square and the installation of traffic lights. Refreshments were served after the business session. The next meeting will be a dinner to be held at the Shetter House in January for members and guests.

GIVE PARTY AT COUNTY HOME

Members of the Seminary Wives club Wednesday evening held a Thanksgiving Day party at the county home for women residents there. The party was the first in a series of monthly programs scheduled to be held by the wives club for the county home inmates.

The program Wednesday, under the leadership of Mrs. Frances Greiman, included a piano solo by Mrs. Mildred McVicker and readings by Mrs. Marjorie Stremel. Several selections were sung by Mrs. Marjorie Alexis. Mrs. Mary Brinman directed the group in quiz games.

A number of the members of the club, including Mrs. Mary Ann Sumner, Mrs. Adeth Hebel, Mrs. Doris Lesh, Mrs. Maria Carl, Mrs. Grace Stauffer and Mrs. Dick Fisher visited with those women at the county home who were unable to attend the party.

Favors for the women included individual bags of homemade cookies and candy.

Working in cooperation with the Auxiliary of the county home, the club plans to arrange for each member to receive the name of one of the inmates for whom she will provide Christmas and birthday gifts.

Times Sponsors Christmas Window Contest; $150 Prizes

The Gettysburg Times will sponsor a Christmas window display contest among Gettysburg merchants on Saturday, November 25, two days after Thanksgiving. The date coincides with the turning on of the Christmas lights by the Exchange club and the publication of The Gettysburg Times Christmas shopping edition. Prizes totaling $150 will be awarded.

One of the objects of the window display contest is to help stimulate the "shop early" movement and is a bid to attract out of town shoppers to Gettysburg.

Merchants entering their Christmas window displays in the contest will be given cards to be placed in windows identifying them as participants. Every store, regardless of size, may enter the contest. Judges will view the windows at 9 o'clock Saturday morning and make their selections on the following basis:

Originality of the setting, 40 per cent; arrangement of merchandise, 25 per cent; lighting, 15 per cent; merchandise coordination, 10 per cent; information value, five per cent and cleanliness, five per cent.

The judges will select three windows as "superior," three as "excellent," and three as "good." Superior windows will be awarded $25; excellent, $15 and good, $10.

We have joined the American Junior Red Cross to help achieve its aims by working together with members everywhere in our own and other lands.'"

Deplores Loss Of Shrines And Makes Plea For Lincoln Statue

Deploping the destruction and sacrificing the historic landmarks in Gettysburg through the years, Mrs. Charles H. Huber, in a letter to the editor of The Gettysburg Times today, pleads for the preservation of the plot in Lincoln Square and urges the erection of a suitable statue of Abraham Lincoln in the only "completely suitable" place remaining. Her letter follows:

Nov. 16, 1950

Dear Sir:

Many years ago there was an astronomical phenomenon which startled and frightened the inhabitants of the continent. That was the falling of the stars in 1833.

A Pennsylvania German mother seeing it in all its wonder and fearfulness called up the stairs to her son, John, still abed, "Chon kum running de welds geht um," which translated is: "John, come running, the world's going under." John, looking out the window and seeing the shower of stars, stuck his head under the pillow and yelled: "Ich wildt nicht dar um habe,"—"I will have nothing to do with it."

Now in the debatable subject of the center square or plot therein, I have felt as John did—that I would have nothing to do with it. However, I am impelled to change my mind as I am too keenly interested in the subject and its ultimate fate.

"Shame and Sacrilege"

I think it would be a shame and a sacrilege to do other than to keep the plot, beautify it further and with the help of every state in the Union, erect a statue of Abraham Lincoln in the center of it, designed and executed by an artist of taste and judgment.

Slowly over the years the landmarks and would-be shrines of Gettysburg have disappeared—the John Burns house, the various houses, trees and fences containing the shot and shell of the famous battle have been destroyed or sold to local museums. Lastly and most important was the destruction of the Wills house (Lincoln's abode while in Gettysburg) in its original beauty and historic value. That house had one of the most beautiful doorways, wide and spacious halls and stairways to be found in the state. White marble steps from street to door was where our Great Emancipator stood while speaking to the citizens gathered there and from which he departed on his ride to the cemetery he was to dedicate.

Urges Lincoln Statue

The beautiful, wide staircase which he climbed to his quarters, all torn out for a place of business. How many towns in early New England would tear out trees or give up their "greens," or the state of Virginia sacrifice one historic spot treasured beyond price, to solve a traffic problem?

The final sacrilege would be the removal of the so-called "plot," the only place in town completely suitable for a statue of Abraham Lincoln.

So let no man destroy it but instead, through the proper procedure get the attention and interest of the nation and use it for a statue of our beloved Lincoln who made our town and our battlefield famous over the world.

TURKEY PARTY FRIDAY NIGHT

The Gettysburg Fire company annual turkey party will be held Friday evening at the L. C. Hamm sales and service, York and South Stratton streets, beginning at 6 o'clock.

The place was moved to the Hamm garage, formerly the Warner Chevrolet garage, from the fire engine house on East Middle street, where all previous turkey parties have been held, because the added space available.

The popularity of the turkey parties has drawn increasingly large crowds each succeeding year, until the main floor of the engine house became too small to accommodate all of the people. Use of the garage was offered to the fire company free of charge by Mr. Hamm.

Members of the fire company on Wednesday night and moved tables and benches to the garage Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock to set the up for the party. All members of the fire company are expected to report not later than 7 o'clock to help on the affair.

UN Forces Drive Ahead Along Cold Korean Front

Seoul, Nov. 16 (AP)—United Nations forces drove forward along the cold North Korean war front today.

Smashing advances of as much as five miles in the northeast carried Americans to within 20 air miles of the Manchurian border.

On the northwest front, troops of three nations, comprising the U. S. First corps moved through a sleet storm. They advanced as much as four miles without firing shot.

The Republic of Korea (ROK) First corps stabilized the left center of the front with short fighting gains.

In Thursday's biggest push, U. S. Seventh Division fought five miles forward in the frozen Punan hills in the northeast gain. Red artillery, tanks and infantry.

The drive placed the 17th Infantry regiment in force along the 41 parallel. The Doughboys were on 20 air miles south of the Manchurian border.

Break Up Counterattack

In the extreme northeast, the ROK Capital Division broke up North Korean counterattack noon. The ROKs then drove 15 miles ahead on the left flank.

Parka-clad U. S. Marines clashed with a sizable Communist force. They moved two and a half to three miles up the icy west side of the great Changlin reservoir in the center of the peninsula. Marine 1st MM guns supported two Marine companies in a clash with the Reds.

Seventy miles to the southwest the ROK First corps hammered its way back into the town of Tokche and recaptured positions along the road linking Tokchon with Kunu.

Naval Forces Help

The ROK corps is on the right flank of the U. S. First corps which made Thursday's sweeping and unopposed advance in the far west.

South Korean, British and American forces, comprising this corps advanced as much as three miles to the north, and stretched out the line to both the west and east. Eve patrols reaching far in front of the advance were unable to contact enemy positions.

Thursday's advances the full length of the slanting line came today after heavy Red assaults dented ROK-held sectors around Tokche and on the northeast coast.

American naval guns and planes came to the rescue of the battered Republic of Korea (ROK) Capital Division on the northeast coast. North Korean attacks, including amphibious landing behind the ROK lines, had ripped holes in the South Korean front and shoved the right flank back within two miles north of Myongchong.

Eight-inch guns of the U. S. Cruiser Rochester and rockets, Marine and Naval planes wiped out half of a Red battalion which made the amphibious landing. The U. S. Tenth corps said.

COLLINS BOY IN COURT BATTLE

Williams Grove, Pa., Nov. 16 (AP)—A 4-year-old boy, Eddie Collins, who was taken to Florida after a 48-hour east-to-west search, may become the subject of a court battle between his divorced parents.

The lad's father, Charles C. Collins, told police at Tampa, Fla., yesterday the boy was safe and in good health, but he wouldn't say where the boy was being kept.

A widespread police search for the boy was started Monday after he was taken from the yard of a country school here by two men and hidden away in an automobile.

Mrs. Mary Collins, Eddie's mother, is a newsman today she would "do anything possible" to have the boy returned to her. "If that means going to court, I'll certainly do that," she declared.

However, at Tampa, the attorney D. Collins, an uncle of the boy, indicated the child would not be given up without a struggle. The attorney, Paul Lake, said he told Tampa police that "we'll deliver the boy if ordered, but added, "we'll go right into court with this."

Eddie had been living for the past two years here with Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Richwine, Jr. They had been ordered to adopt Eddie, Mrs. Collins, waitress at nearby Richwines, is close friend of the Richwines.

TO OBSERVE TWO THANKSGIVINGS

Washington, Nov. 16 (AP)—Two states—Arkansas and Texas—will have two Thanksgiving days this year. They will observe both the 23rd date proclaimed by President Truman as the national day of thanksgiving and also their own for 30 holiday.

Mr. Truman fixed the Nov. 23 date in line with a congressional resolution calling for Thanksgiving on the fourth Thursday.

But in Arkansas, the law stating the state's legal holiday sets the first Thursday in November as Thanksgiving. Since this is a five-day Thursday November this year, that means Nov. 30.

There'll be a little bit of confusion in Arkansas over the double holiday, some federal works in the state will observe the earlier date, others the later.

The situation is different in Texas. Gov. Allan Shivers proclaimed both dates as Thanksgiving with the explanation that Texas "has enough to be thankful for to have two Thanksgiving days."

The tangle over different Thanksgiving dates began in 1939, when the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt decided to make the date to last Thursday as the date for celebrating Mr. Roosevelt reasoned that it would help business to have a longer interval between Thanksgiving and Christmas. His idea was that most Christmas shoppers don't get going until Thanksgiving is out of the way.

Basioni, uninjured, told friends who rushed to his aid:

"This is the saddest day of my life."

'51 Farm Show To Mark Anniversary

When the 1951 Pennsylvania Farm show is held in Harrisburg next January 8 through 12, special observance is planned for the formal opening in recognition of the 20th anniversary of the dedication of the main show building.

In addition, the coming Farm show will mark the 100th anniversary of the State fair that flourished from 1851 to 1899. Also, the 1951 Farm show is the 35th in the series of expositions that succeeded the State fair, says Miles Horst, State Secretary of Agriculture and chairman of the Farm Show commission.

Erection of the main Farm show building in 1930 and its dedication on January, 1931, resulted from frequent requests by farmers that a special building be provided to house the exposition. The Farm show was founded in 1917 and soon outgrew limited facilities in a number of scattered garages, farm machinery buildings and meeting rooms in downtown Harrisburg.

Bookie Nabbed On Woman's Charges

West Chester, Pa., Nov. 16 (AP)—A 30-year-old woman charged with embezzling $42,600 was held in $5,000 bail today and the man with whom she says she bet most of the money was held on a charge of bookmaking.

E. Louise Higgins, assistant treasurer of the Kennett Equipment and Machinery company, Kennett Square, Pa., Tuesday waived hearing on charges of forgery and fraudulent conversion before Justice of the Peace Lewis R. Downing and was ordered held for grand jury action. She admitted cashing the company's checks to pay her gambling debts.

Then she named Pete Ferrante, of Kennett Square, as the man with whom she placed most of her bets. State police arrested Ferrante and charged him with bookmaking at a hearing before Justice of the Peace John Di Cecco in Avondale, Pa. Di Cecco ordered Ferrante held in $2,000 bail for a later hearing.

Dillsburg Flier Crashes Into Lake

Seattle, Nov. 16 (AP)—Two Pennsylvanians escaped with only a ducking yesterday as a small naval transport plane plunged into Lake Washington.

Eye witnesses said the plane, containing five men, all from the Whidbey Island Naval Air Station, fell into the chilly water when its engine failed on takeoff from the Sand Point Naval Air field.

Three of the men went ashore. The other two were picked up by a crash boat as they clung to the plane's tail.

The Pennsylvanians were John Francis Rupert, 203 Poplar street, Norristown, and Richard Curtis Keiter, Route 1, Dillsburg.

New Device Checks On Atomic Rays

Washington, Nov. 16 (AP)—The army, displaying a pocket-sized device to show quickly whether a man has had too much atomic radiation, said yesterday all troops will eventually be equipped with them.

Called a "dosimeter," the device is a flat metal box with a chain device to be worn around a soldier's neck. The army said it can be mass produced for under $1.

It contains a small film packet which, developing itself on exposure to light, changes color if it has been subjected to atomic gamma rays. The degree of radiation can be measured roughly by the whiteness of the film strip.

The device was developed by the Polaroid corporation, at Cambridge, Mass., under Army Signal Corps sponsorship. An army spokesman said large quantities won't be available for at least six months.

Foreign Policy Critic May Get Key Post

Washington, Nov. 16 (AP)—Some important Republican sentiment appeared to be building up today for assigning to the Senate foreign relations committee a persistent critic of the Truman administration's Far Eastern policy.

A Senate GOP group quietly backing Senator Knowland (R-Calif.) for the committee post reportedly is determined to keep it from going to Senator Morse (R-Ore.), who frequently lines up with the administration on foreign affairs.

The situation is likely to touch off a warm dispute if Morse reneges his long-standing bid for a place on the key committee.

At present the Republicans have five seats on the foreign relations committee and the Democrats have eight. In the new Congress convened January 3 the division in that Senate group is slated to be seven Democrats and six Republicans.

Telephone Strike In Second Week

Philadelphia, Nov. 16 (AP)—The nationwide telephone strike—marked by flaring tempers on the picket line and a legal tug-of-war over injunctions—entered the second week today with no immediate prospect of peace.

In New York city, an A.T.&T. spokesman said that long distance service was normal of the 14 traffic points of the long lines division. He said the only office being picketed this morning was in Pittsburgh.

The walkout of Western Electric Equipment employees was called by the CIO-Communications Workers union in 44 states last Thursday. Bell Telephone of Pennsylvania and other subsidiaries of the parent American Telephone and Telegraph company are not directly involved in the strike.

The request for a court order and 200 police officers dispersed today the striker's third effort at mass picketing of a Pennsylvania Bell exchange, where members of an independent union have refused to honor the CIO picket lines.

Warsaw, Poland, Nov. 16 (AP)—More than 2,000 delegates from 60 countries crowded into Warsaw today for the opening of the Communist-line second World Peace Congress, adjourned from Sheffield, Eng. A press office said the congress would start at 6 p.m. (noon, Eastern Standard Time).

Defense Department planners are known to have drafted a proposed bill covering such a request in the hopes that the 81st Congress will find time to vote the added money.

started its existence with a debt of almost $83,000,000. And the debt rose during the War of 1812 to $127,000,000.

Increase In Debt

"The debt reached its low point in 1835-36 when it fell to $38,000 and it may be possible that for a month or so during that period the country was free of debt. By the close of the Civil War the debt was $2,600,000,000. When World War I started the debt was just under three billion dollars. At the close of 1918 the debt was $23,400,000,000. In 1931 the debt totaled $16,800,000,000 and under the New Deal by 1940, the debt was up to $40,000,000,000.

"Another way of putting it is to divide the debt by the population to show what each person's share of the national debt is. In 1850 each person owed $2.83. In 1945 each person owed $14.33.

"The increase of the national debt has led the government to borrow from banks, which is inflationary. By paying a higher rate of interest on new issues the market would be widened for government bonds. Purchases by the public would reduce the need to resort to banks which would tend to cut down the inflation which is caused by a cheap money policy.

"Another factor which has been inflationary has been the support price set by the Federal Reserve system. The Federal Reserve has at times bought heavily at par or more than the government's funded war debt bonds. This has expanded credit and fed the fires of inflation. At the same time the government was seeking to establish control of inflation.

"Much of our government is divided today on what to do about the debt. The treasury, as a debtor, seeks a cheap money policy. The Federal Reserve has sought to strengthen the currency. Usually the treasury has won.

"Opinion concerning the economic effects of the public debt vary widely. There are some who view it with alarm and wonder how it can be paid off. Others view it as an instrument for controlling the public economy, as a means of smoothing out fluctuations in the rate of economic activity."

Excess Profits Tax Foes Barred

Washington, Nov. 16 (AP)—Foes of excess profits taxes were barred today from advocating before the House Ways and Means committee any alternative tax to produce $4,000,000,000.

By straight party vote, of 15 Democrats to 10 Republicans, the committee refused three times to let witnesses suggest any tax plan as a substitute for the excess profits levy asked by the Truman administration.

Witnesses favoring such alternatives as hikes in regular corporation income taxes were barred not only from talking about them but also from putting their prepared statements into the committee record.

Chairman Doughton (D-N.C.) said the committee has a mandate from Congress to draft an excess profits tax bill and just hasn't time to go into the entire field of taxation. The tax bill passed last session contained a clause saying the committee should work on an excess profits tax.

Turnpike Section To Open Monday

Harrisburg, Nov. 16 (AP)—Motorists will be able to make their first trip over the new 100-mile eastern extension of the Pennsylvania turnpike next Monday.

Thomas J. Evans, Turnpike Commission chairman, in announcing the November 20 opening date, urged motorists to drive with caution while finishing work is being completed. "While the turnpike is completed," said Evans, "much finishing work has yet to be done and those using the highway are cautioned to drive at all times with care."

A series of construction delays postponed the opening from the scheduled October 1 date. The automobile toll will be $1.20 from Carlisle, eastern terminus of the present superhighway, to King of Prussia, about 12 miles from the Philadelphia city line.

All nine interchanges will be put into service next Monday with the exception of the Gettysburg pike entrance. It will be opened at a later date, Evans said.

Indianapolis, Nov. 16 (AP)—A move to oust two government medical directors in a dispute over hospitals for veterans was referred today to the national executive committee of the American Legion.

A resolution has already been adopted by the Legion's conference of state commanders and adjutants. It is aimed at Dr. Richard Melling, director of medical services for the Defense Department, and Dr. Paul B. Magnuson, chief director of the Veterans Administration.

INJURIES HAVE TAKEN BIG TOLL AMONG BULLETS

An injury-laden team of Gettysburg Bullets will travel to Lancaster to square off against its oldest rival, Franklin & Marshall college, on November 23.

This contest will mark the finale of another gridiron campaign for both schools. For Gettysburg, it is the curtain closing of a rather tragic story, not as far as records are concerned, but more as far as players are concerned.

Weeks before the initial fray was to take place against the Bucknell eleven, most experts concerned themselves with the feeling that this year as in the past, the Bullets would indeed be a team to reckon with. Then the thunder struck and out went Dwight Speaker from Sharon Hill, Pa., who, in 1949, led the Gettysburg offense on the ground. A torn muscle in the right leg prevented "Speck" from closing out his career in fine fashion.

Lee Snook, 190-pound fullback, was the next to feel the whip of fate as he bowed out of the picture with a broken leg. The injury grimace had certainly made its presence known around Gettysburg and next to feel its sting was "Ronnie" Fitzkee, of Red Lion. "Ronnie" broke his leg in the Western Maryland contest after having done a capable job of filling the talented shoes of Speaker.

Linemen affected by the unpredictable wheel of fortune were Gene Coder, rangy, pass receiving end; Bob Dickson, a bulky tackle who was stricken with pneumonia, and finally 234-pound Harry Hoesfeld, who was forced out of action because of high blood pressure. Bob and Gene later returned to see action against Johns Hopkins while Harry is no longer able to play.

Latest casualties involve the Bullets' current ground-gaining leader, Tom Faulkner. Tom fractured his hand last Saturday and will not be available for the finale. The exact same injury occurred to stellar line backer, Bill Ewing.

Along with these casualties, the armed services also loaned a hand in exhausting the Gettysburg squad with Ken Bowman, Howard Griffiths, John Wanamaker and Ed Williams answering the call. All four of these boys played roles in the Bullets' successful 1949 campaign.

MEYER IS STILL PIRATE MANAGER

Pittsburgh, Nov. 16 (AP)—Branch Rickey, Billy Meyer and the Pittsburgh Pirates are still one big and at least temporarily happy family today.

Ever since Rickey—former general manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers—was named executive vice president of the Pirates recently—the rumors have been flying that Meyer was out as Pittsburgh manager. The Pirates finished in last place this year.

The hot stove league experts felt Rickey would dispose of Meyer's future one way or another yesterday before leaving to attend the minor league draft meeting at Cincinnati.

Rickey and Meyer had a private confab and Meyer later announced "I'm still in the driver's seat" but added "I really don't know for how long."

"Your guess is as good as mine," Billy said before leaving for his home in Tennessee. "Mr. Rickey hasn't even told me what his final decision is going to be—and he apparently wants me around a while longer."

Meyer said he was told to report at the major league executives meeting at St. Petersburg, Fla., early next month.

Rickey in turn said he wouldn't announce his decision until after that session.

Meyer still has one season to go on his three-year pact calling for $40,000 a year. Rickey would have to pay Billy to tear up his contract.

Among those being mentioned as possible Meyer replacements is Lou Boudreau, former shortstop-manager of the Cleveland Indians.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Nov. 16 (AP)—The United States Golf association still is worried about players who waste too much time studying shots and lining up putts in championship tournaments. . . . That seems singularly unnecessary at this time, when northern golfers can take all winter if they like and the guys vacationing in the south and west aren't in a hurry about anything. . . . Still there are some interesting figures on putting compiled for the U.S.C.A. Journal by Runcie Martin, who clocked a lot of the lads in the 1950 amateur championship. . . . Times recorded ranged from 17 seconds, from the time the golfers addressed the ball until he stroked the putt, up to 166 seconds, which has how long Frank Stanahan took to miss his final putt. The average was slightly over 40 seconds per putt. . . . In one match, which required four hours, 11 minutes for 17 holes, almost 37 minutes were devoted to lining up putts. . . .

Now you can look for some enterprising gent to come up with the ideal Christmas present for a golfer's wife to give the old man—a combination stop watch and alarm clock, with a special gong that means "get the heck out of that locker room, you bum, and try to be on time for dinner just once."

Along with these casualties, the armed services also loaned a hand in exhausting the Gettysburg squad with Ken Bowman, Howard Griffiths, John Wanamaker and Ed Williams answering the call. All four of these boys played roles in the Bullets' successful 1949 campaign.

RADIO-TV CASH, PLAYER DRAFT, DECIDED TODAY

Cincinnati, Nov. 16 (AP)—Baseball's top brass gets together today to decide who gets the million dollars. And to boost some deserving talent from the minors to the majors.

The million dollars really isn't a million, but is only a pop fly off that figure. It is the $975,000 derived from the radio and television rights at the 1950 World Series — and the odds are about 10 to 1 it will go into the player pension fund.

Attracting heaviest interest around the hotel lobbies, which are densely populated with big league managers, general managers, presidents, scouts and farm directors, is the annual draft.

A year ago the majors picked 21 minor leaguers at a cost of $192,500. This year 5,668 boys in the bushes are on the block, including 238 listed as "bonus" players.

Branch Rickey, new boss of the Pittsburgh Pirates, gets first crack at the talent under the reverse-order system which gives the eighth place clubs the opening choice. The Mahatma was mum on his draft plans, as was everyone else, but most of Rickey's rivals expected him to grab pitcher Omar Lown, pitcher Carroll Beringer, shortstop Russell Rose or outfielder Hand Edwards, from Montreal.

Draft prices range from $2,000 for a class D player to $10,000 for one from the Triple-A circuit. Some of the baseball men predicted only 19 or 12 youngsters would be drafted today.

While the $975,000 fund and the draft held top places on the day's agenda, preliminary gestures which might lead to some big league player deals probably were being made in the lobby huddles. Little in the trading line was expected here, but spade work was being done toward consummation at the big league meeting in St. Petersburg, Fla., in early December.

F AND M FROSH HERE ON FRIDAY

The 1950 football finale on a local gridiron will be staged Friday afternoon at 2:15 o'clock on the college field when the Gettysburg college freshman team closed its season against the Franklin and Marshall college yearlings.

There will be few changes in the Gettysburg lineup although Wilson Freeze, center, who broke his leg last week, will be missing.

Backfield starters will probably include Sachs, quarterback; Holland and Frinzi or Ujohai, halfbacks; D'Agostino or Carliano, fullbacks.

To date the Bullets have a record of three wins against two losses. Franklin and Marshall has won three games, lost to Delaware and Stevens Trade, while deadlocking Bucknell.

Use Only Shells Designed For Your Gun

Hunters should always remember to use only ammunition answering gun manufacturer's specifications as to caliber, gauge and powder charge. Sportsmen are cautioned also not to use foreign made guns brought home as souvenirs unless it has been learned positively they are chambered for ammunition manufactured in this country, and are capable of carrying safely the heavy loads designed for use in American guns. When shotguns use the old style Damascus or twist steel barrels are used hunters should not fire modern, high velocity shells in them.

GOBRECHT HAS LEAD IN STATE GRID SCORING

Philadelphia, Nov. 16 (AP)—Dickinson's Wilbur Gobrecht heads the Pennsylvania college football scoring parade today but two other stars, Dan Parrell of Bloomsburg and Dick Doyné, Lehigh, have a chance to catch or pass him in their final games.

Gobrecht scored two touchdowns as Dickinson wound up its season against Johns Hopkins last Saturday. The two TD's gave Gobrecht a total of 12 for the season and 72 points.

In the second November ranking, Doyné and Parrell are tied with Jerry Watson of Allegheny with 66 points each, on 11 touchdowns, but Watson finished his season last Saturday when he counted four touchdowns.

Doyné went wild for unbeaten and untied Lehigh, scoring four six-pointers against Carnegie Tech. Parrell failed to score against West Chester as Bloomsburg went down to its initial defeat of the season 31 to 6.

Others with a chance of sneaking in to the scoring championship are Jack Lowder of Franklin and Marshall, Fred Prender, West Chester, and Dick Gabriel, Lehigh, each with 60 points and a game to play. Geneva's Lyle Peluso has 61 and Dickinson's Wilbur Gobrecht 60, but both have ended their play for the year.

General Bliss Dies on Sunday:

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

PERENNIAL FRIENDS
I wonder how we would look upon life, were it not for our friends? In an entire lifetime we are lucky if we have accumulated but a handful of genuine friends. Perhaps it may not be even so large a number as that, but if there be but one or two, still do we remain rich!

It was Stevenson who once asked: "What can be more encouraging than to find the friend who was welcome at one age, still welcome at another?" Many of us have carried along with us such a friend or two—ever changing though never changing.

In reading much from the books of W. H. Hudson, the naturalist, who was born in the Argentine, I noted that a stranger was habitually addressed as a "friend." I was greatly impressed and it made me think how wonderful it would be if we always looked upon our fellowman as a potential friend.

In youth we have a multitude of companions whom we refer to as our friends, but as the years accumulate so many of them drop from our association and memory. Just a little handful remain—the perennial ones. But it is this small group that makes life worth while, and which gives to it its beauty and comfort. I read somewhere that the only person spoken of by Napoleon as a friend (I think it was in his will) was his faithful valet.

In Fitz-Greene Halleck's poem upon the death of Joseph Rodman Drake, he spoke of him as—

"Friend of my better days!
None knew thee but to love thee
Nor named thee but to praise."

That must have been a wonderful friendship. One that must have come to Halleck to comfort and inspire him, long after his friend's departure. It is this kind of friendship that is spreading, warming, and giving cheer to an endless number.

The dog has long been referred to as "man's best friend." For the main reason that he is constant and faithful to the end. In W. H. Hudson's book "The Purple Land" he tells of a man who had been murdered in a lonely place upon the pampas, but with his faithful dog beside him. Vultures gathered nearby, awaiting their chance, but the dog would allow not one to come near, not even leaving for water or food, later dying with his master. Yes, I believe there must be a heaven for dogs, as well as for our perennial friends.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Warm Mind."

GARDEN CLOSING
The roses are bedded, the tulips are in.
The birds have flown south. Let the winter begin!
Now down in the basement the lawn mower goes
To rest with the spade and the rake and the hose.

The cutworms and beetles no longer invade.
The aphids resisted the stuff that I sprayed.
But they went underground at the first sign of frost.
For they knew if they lingered above they were lost.

All's well with the garden! But what about me?
And what shall I do with my time after tea?
Just sit by the fire in my arm chair and yawn
And dream of the days when I watered the lawn.

Dear Sir:
I was interested today in reading your news item appearing in the "Times" under date of November 9, 1950 under the title "Harry L. Cratin Casts 50th Ballot" and I wish to congratulate Mr. Cratin on his voting record as a Pennsylvania citizen. As I often think that apparently entirely too many people of voting age do not seem to realize that it is a duty to vote when the opportunity is given, and they certainly do not seem to appreciate the fact that it is not only a duty but it is a privilege we have in the United States of America which is denied in many other countries.

I cannot beat Mr. Cratin's record of never failing to cast a ballot at any primary or general election since he became a voter in 1901 but I am one of a possible few who can beat the record in the number of ballots cast.

I cast my first general election ballot in November 1893 and from that time up to and including the spring primary of 1950 I never missed casting my ballot at any primary or general election and in November 1949 I cast my 57th general election ballot (53 in Cumberland

Littlestown SOLDIER IS NOW LISTED AS DEAD

Mrs. Estella Rider, Park avenue, has received word from the Adjutant General, Washington, D. C., that her nephew, Corporal Edward P. Fuhrman of the Signal Corps, who has been missing in Korea since July 21, 1950 has been officially declared dead.

The Littlestown Homemakers held their semi-monthly meeting on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Willis Syder, Gettysburg R. 1. The preparation of cake mixes was demonstrated by Miss Mary Jane Mickey, Adams county home economics representative. Cakes were made and cut and Miss Mickey explained the testing for quality, texture and palatability.

Four new members were received into the organization at the Tuesday meeting. They were: Mrs. Wade Brown, Mrs. C. Glenn Weaver, Mrs. James Brown and Mrs. Daniel Dettrick. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Charles Wolfe, Two Taverns. The study of patterns will be discussed at this meeting by Miss Mickey. The meeting will be held November 28. The meeting last night closed with a social hour and refreshments served by the hostess.

Funeral services were held today at 10:00 a. m. for Mrs. Mary Pool, 72, who died very suddenly at the home of William C. Arentz, Gettysburg, R. 5, near Two Taverns. Services were conducted from Providence Calvary Methodist church, Gamber, Md., by J. W. Little and Son, funeral directors, Littlestown. Rev. William Waters, pastor of Providence Calvary Methodist church, officiated. Interment was in the cemetery adjoining the church.

8 Million Trees Grow In Wasteland

Harrisburg, Nov. 16 (AP)—Nearly 8,000,000 trees and shrubs are now planted on what were waste lands in western Pennsylvania's strip mine coal fields.

It's the result of five years of operation of the soft coal strip mine law.

"The law has reached its fifth milestone and many operators who first opposed it are now cooperating 100 per cent," commented Mines Secretary Richard Maize.

The law requires coal operators to post a bond of $300 for each acre of land to be stripped with a minimum bond of $3,000. The bond requires that the ravaged acres be reforested and returned as nearly as possible to their original contours.

Gen. Strickler Goes To GI's For Talks

Camp Atterbury, Ind., Nov. 16 (AP)—GI's sprang to attention when Major-General Daniel Strickler walked into the 28th National Guard's servicemen's center not long ago but the general quickly put them at ease—then sat down to hear his men tell their problems.

In a fast question and answer period, Strickler let the enlisted men pour questions at him. If he knew the answers he gave them. If he didn't he told them so.

Afterwards Strickler said he'll continue such informal chats, commenting: "Too many soldiers are unnecessarily afraid of rank. The only way I can get them to tell me their troubles is to go to them."

New York, Nov. 16 (AP)—A two-year bookmaking sentence and $30,000 fine imposed on millionaire gambler Frank Erickson was unanimously upheld Tuesday by the Appellate Division of the State Supreme court.

The 54-year-old Erickson pleaded guilty last June 10 to 59 counts of bookmaking and one count of conspiracy. He was sentenced seven days later and sent to Rikers Island penitentiary.

Cites "Big Ifs" In Steel Production

Los Angeles, Nov. 16 (AP)—President Benjamin F. Fairless of United States Steel corporation, said today that "there will be no shortage of essential steel if our plants remain in uninterrupted production, and if nothing blocks our expansion program."

He called them "two very big ifs." He added: "You can't build new capacity unless you pay for it; and all the capacity in the world is worthless if your plants are shut down by strikes. Gentlemen, America can not afford another steel strike."

In his address at the American Petroleum Institute convention Fairless indicated he expects an agreement to be reached with union labor, without a strike.

Noting that "whether we like it or not, the fifth round of wage increases is already well under way," Fairless said workers in oil, rubber, automobile and other industries have had raises this year but not steelworkers.

Sought By Police, Commits Suicide

Reading, Pa., Nov. 16 (AP)—Edward P. Weand, 29, wanted for questioning in a double shooting September 26, committed suicide, Detective Lieut. Albert Hoffman said.

The officer reported Weand shot himself yesterday as a detail of police closed in at the home of his parents where he had been hiding. He was pronounced dead at Community General hospital where he was taken with a 32 calibre bullet wound in the upper right temple.

Hoffman said Weand was sought in the shooting of George Schaeffer, 36, and Mrs. Anna Hrick, 34. Both were shot after Schaeffer had escorted Mrs. Hrick to her home. They were treated and later released from a hospital.

Martin Calls For Immediate Controls

Washington, Nov. 16 (AP)—Senator Martin (R-Pa.) today called for immediate price and wage controls "clear across the board," but Senator Bricker (R-Ohio) voiced a hope they may be avoided.

"Regimentation should be held at a minimum unless we get in an all-out war," Bricker asserted. He contended such steps as higher taxes and elimination of "all unnecessary" government spending would curb inflation.

Martin said he, too, is "hellishly opposed to government interference in business, but the way the dollar situation is going means that something must be done quickly."

Alan Valentine, the nation's economic stabilization director, hinted strongly last night that wage-price controls may be imposed soon unless industry and labor "exercise restraint." In a speech before the Economic Club of New York, Valentine called for holding the line on prices or reducing them if possible at the expense of profits.

PUBLISHERS AND STRIKERS MEET

Pittsburgh, Nov. 16 (AP)—The publishers of Pittsburgh's three daily newspapers met with union representatives today to discuss back-pay demands of workers not involved in a mailers' strike settled last Tuesday.

The back-pay issue has delayed resumption of publication by the Post-Gazette, Sun-Telegraph and Press.

The newspapers signed agreements with striking mailers and truck drivers on Tuesday to end the six-week-old walkout. No announcement was made, however, as to when the papers plan to resume publication.

The non-striking workers—including editorial employees, pressmen, printers, stereotypers, engravers and other workers—are seeking back pay for the period they were idle as a result of a suspension of publication by the three newspapers on October 3.

The Pittsburgh Newspaper Guild voted last night to authorize its executive board to adopt a common course with other unions in hastening their return to work.

The Guild voted, however, to turn down a motion to inform the executive board Guild members wanted to go back to work immediately and arbitrate the back-pay issue later.

Indict 24 For Postal Violations

Philadelphia, Nov. 16 (AP)—A federal grand jury has indicted 24 persons, including a Philadelphia fireman and a retired policeman, on charges of violating postal regulations in the importation and distribution of Irish sweepstakes tickets. The indictments were returned to U.S. District Judge Thomas J. Clary on Tuesday.

All but one of the persons indicted, said Assistant U.S. Attorney Bernard Frank, were connected with Frank V. Nolan, 33-year-old Philadelphia, accused of being one of the leaders in the yearly distribution of more than $36,000,000 in sweepstakes tickets in the United States. Nolan, a war veteran who lost a leg in World War II fighting, was named in a lottery indictment by a federal grand jury on November 23.

At that time, Assistant U.S. Attorney Walter A. Gay, said Nolan controlled the distribution of sweepstakes tickets in the 12 seaboard states from Pennsylvania south through Florida and along the gulf coast into Louisiana. Nolan has not yet been brought to trial.

Halifax, Pa., Nov. 16 (AP)—A two-week "naval" war on the destructive gypsy moth got underway on the Susquehanna river flowing past this upper Dauphin county borough. Four men in an outboard motor boat set out from here Monday to scour every island as far upstream as Sunbury. Their target—egg clusters of the gypsy moth.

Dr. Nancy Campbell (top), prominent Sante Fe, N. M., physician was trapped in Sante Fe as she picked up $20,000 ransom demanded for nine-year-old Linda Stamm (bottom). Sante Fe school girl, who was abducted Friday, Linda was found dragged in parked auto from which Dr. Campbell went to pick up the ransom money. The FBI said Dr. Campbell admitted the abduction. Washington, Nov. 16 (AP)—The nation's metal-using industry may be harnessed by next July 1 under a "controlled materials plan" if military demands mount as now foreseen, a top National Production Authority (NPA) official said today. The plan contemplates complete allocation of basic metals.

The Littlestown Rotarians held their weekly dinner meeting at Schottie's Hotel on Tuesday evening. A. G. Ealy, chairman of the vocational service committee, was in charge of the program. Mr. Ealy read an article on communism followed by a discussion. Mr. Ealy pointed out that the present existence of communism is backed by men of low character and destroys the liberty of all countries involved.

Luther D. Snyder reported on the inter-city meeting held at Gettysburg on Monday night. Robert Yingling, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Yingling, Maple avenue, was introduced to the Rotarians by Frank Basehoar, as the boy of the month. The Rotary received one new member on Tuesday night, Edward T. Richardson, Jr., Mr. Richardson is the forty-second member of the local club. Ladies Night will be observed at next week's meeting. The Deep River Jubilee quartet will provide the entertainment for that evening.

Renews $500 Bail For Code Violation

William McCauslin, 37, of Biglerville R. 1, charged by state police of the Gettysburg substation with failing to stop at the scene of an accident, signed a plea of guilty before Justice of the Peace John H. Basehoar Tuesday afternoon, and was held for court. He renewed bail of $500.

McCauslin's car sideswiped the automobile of Orville Black, 21, of Aspers R. 1, three miles north of Bendersville on the Bendersville-Wenksville road Sunday night, according to state police.

WAR AND PEACE IN PRECARIOUS BALANCE TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

Captain Liddell Hart, internationally known British military analyst, states in a studied estimate of the global crisis that "the chances of peace and war are closely balanced—almost on a knife edge."

That is one of the conclusions in Liddell Hart's outspoken new book, "Defense of the West" (William Morrow and Co., New York). Amplifying this uncomfortable appraisal, he says:

"One may doubt whether any government wants another war, but it is hard to see how it can be avoided if the present tension persists. The 'Iron Curtain' that now divides the world fulfills its name all too well in preventing peaceful communication, but it is only a tin curtain in other respects. A large extent of it has no strength as a military barrier, and it is not sound-proof against the roaring on either side of it."

Three Ways Possible

Liddell Hart believes that there are three ways in which another world war might be detonated.

One way would be a direct clash between the U.S.A. and Soviet Russia. Another would be a conflict between Russia and states other than America but within the latter's sphere of interest—for example a Russian threat to European members of the Atlantic Pact.

"A third way," says the author, "is from a conflict arising between states that the two giant powers respectively support—a duel that the 'seconds' begin and the principals join in."

Captain Liddell Hart says the Pacific is the most likely area where a direct clash between America and Russia might arise. The other two cases might develop anywhere in Europe, the Middle East or south-east Asia.

H-Bomb Menace

"An outbreak in Europe," says the author, "would be the most dangerous both in its form and for the future of Western civilization."

Captain Liddell Hart points out that "humanity is now faced with the potential menace of the hydrogen bomb" and he continues:

"Such a bomb, if successfully developed, could have an immensely greater devastating power than the present atom bomb. Leading scientists have estimated the blast as over 1,000 times more powerful, and the likely area of devastation as at least 100 times greater. x x x There seems to be general agreement that a single bomb of this kind could wipe out the largest of cities—if it could be delivered to the target."

New Oxford—Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Whited have moved to this section where they have purchased the D. E. Palmer place. The Whited couple, formerly of Guilford, lived for the past year near East Berlin in the cottage they purchased from Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kotke and have now sold to the Harry Mummert family, near Abbottstown.

Gerald L. Orndorff, teacher of Pine Run schoolhouse, near here, reports that these children recently attained a perfect attendance record for one month: Robert Walker, Brenda Wolf, Gordon Staub, Glenn Moul, Edward Staub, Donna Sullivan, Margaret Linebaugh, Lorraine Harman, Richard Bennett, Charles O. The Women's Missionary group of the Pines Lutheran church, New Chester, met during the week at the home of the pastor and his wife, the Rev. and Mrs. Samuel M. Clarke.

Mrs. Robert E. Hemminger has been visiting in Phoenixville at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bothwell, Jr., who announced the birth of a son a few weeks ago.

Mrs. C. P. Keefe has been seriously ill at her home.

The recently conducted West Pennsylvania Missionary conference was reported upon this week to the Women's Missionary Society of the First Lutheran church by the wife of the pastor, Mrs. George E. Sheffer. The hostess to the meeting was the wife of the former pastor, Mrs. George N. Lauffer, who with her husband now resides here. Mrs. Lauffer's co-hostess was Mrs. Carrie Snyder.

The recent drive for funds to aid the work of the Salvation Army, conducted here when townspeople and business places were solicited, has been reported successful.

MARRIAGE OF BABY KING NOT RARE IN ORIENT

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

The report persists that baby King Gyanendra of the Himalayan kingdom of Nepal, on the northern frontier of India, has been married to a granddaughter (age not given) of his prime minister as a political expedient.

Denial of the story by the Nepalese ambassador to India hasn't killed it. This is sequel to last week's sensation when three-year-old Gyanendra's grandfather, King Tribhuvan, was deposed by Prime Minister Maharajah Mohan Shamsheer Jang Bahadur Rana, and fled into exile in New Delhi, India. The prime minister placed the baby on the vacant throne.

The key to this Himalayan drama is the fact that the king is only a figurehead and that the hereditary prime minister is the real ruler of the realm. The prime minister's family has controlled the throne since 1867. As a result of his action in deposing the king, who was bent on liberalizing the government, he now is battling an uprising by the so-called Congress party, which supports the monarch.

No Surprise In Nepal

Amazing as such a child marriage would seem to western peoples, it isn't an event which would cause much surprise in Nepal, or in other neighboring Asiatic countries, for that matter. Child marriages have been going on in that part of the world from time immemorial, although the practice has decreased greatly in the more progressive countries like India.

Many of these marriages have been made for the sake of uniting old families of wealth or rank.

Unfortunately, however, child marriages haven't been confined to such moderate cases. It long ago became a widespread practice in many eastern countries for grown men to marry little girls as young as five, and set up housekeeping forthwith.

Outlawed In 1929

Things got so bad that back in 1929, while India was still a part of the British empire, the Indian legislature passed an elaborate act to restrain child marriage. An investigation showed that, based on the census of 1921, the number of married girls under 15 was as follows:

Under the age of 5—218,465; between 5 and 10—2,016,687; between 10 and 15—6,330,207; total, 8,565,357. The number of girls married before the completion of their fifteenth year was set at 25,168,585.

Under the restraining act, a child was defined as a girl under 14 and a boy under 18. Punishment was provided not only for the contracting parties to an illegal marriage but for anyone performing or directing such a marriage.

Since those days there has been a vast decrease in child marriages in India, though they still persist in some circles.

Continue Probe Of "Confession"

Lewisburg, Pa., Nov. 16 (AP)—Officials said they are planning to continue their investigation of a former soldier who first "confessed" and later denied he committed a slaying for which another man has served nearly four years in prison.

Clarence A. Woodley, 25, now imprisoned in the federal penitentiary here, made a statement to military authorities when he was arrested on armed robbery charges in Germany.

In that statement, Woodley was quoted as saying he strangled Mrs. Miriam Green, 28-year-old Pottstown, Pa., divorcee.

Gerald C. Wentzel, 39, Pottstown diemaker and civic leader, was convicted of second degree murder in connection with Mrs. Green's death and was sentenced to from 10 to 20 years in prison. Wentzel admitted he had been intimate with Mrs. Green but denied any part in the slaying.

Before geologists developed their knowledge and theories of erosion, it was commonly thought that valleys were caused by fissures in the earth's crust produced during an upheaval.

Management blamed a "continuing labor slowdown" in the steel rolling mill at Rouge and parts and materials shortages.

The CIO United Auto Workers took exception to the slowdown charge, asserting the company was at fault for a steel shortage. Management and union have been at odds since a wildcat strike at the rolling mill early in October.

After Tuesday, Rouge's 50,000 men will be idle the rest of the week. There will be another shutdown Nov. 30 and Dec. 1.

Approximately 25,000 Ford assembly workers outside Michigan were idle yesterday. Some returned today. All will be back Friday. However, the assembly plants will operate only three days of next week.

SCINTILLATION COUNTER IS NEW MEDIC GADGET

By FRANK CAREY
(Associated Press Science Reporter)
St. Louis, Nov. 16 (AP) — A new atomic-age development which may "revolutionize" the diagnosis and treatment of thyroid disease—incl. thyroid cancer—was announced this week to the medical world.

It's a new application of a radiation-detection instrument called a "scintillation counter."

Doctors describing it said the instrument "should largely replace" the well-known Geiger counter in various other medical applications dependent upon the detection of atomic radiation.

They said it even opened up the possibility of unrestricted use of a variety of radioactive materials for research in hospitals, industry and agriculture.

At present, these materials are restricted to use by certain especially-equipped institutions because of potential radiation hazards.

The doctors told the Southern Medical Association, meeting here, of use of the instrument in diagnosing thyroid disease. In this application, it detects "rays" of radioactive iodine given to patients as a tracer material. The iodine settles in the thyroid gland and a diseased condition can be determined on the basis of radioactive signals given out.

Up to now, the Geiger counter has been the only instrument used for that same purpose. But the scintillation counter was described as 100 times more sensitive than the Geiger counter in detecting a certain kind of atomic ray.

And, because it is so sensitive, it allows use of as little as 1/250th the amount of radioactive iodine required when a Geiger counter is employed. This makes it possible to perform repeated tests without danger to the patient.

Sugar cane is a giant grass, growing from 6 to 15 feet high.

FARM CALENDAR

Poison Orchard Mice—If you have not put out bait stations for poisoning orchard mice, do not delay. C. S. Bittner, extension fruit specialist of the Pennsylvania State college, says that these stations made with corn-stalks, should be placed long enough before the poison is placed so that the mice will find them and feel right at home there.

Breed Spring Litter—Right now is a good time to breed sows and gilts for early spring pigs, reminds L. C. Madison, extension livestock specialist of the Pennsylvania State college. He says that the selected brood sows should be of good conformation, from large litters, and gaining in weight to insure success.

Store Root Crops—In the absence of a good storage cellar, root crops may be stored for winter in an outdoor trench or pit. J. O. Dutt, extension vegetable specialist of the Pennsylvania State college, explains that the trench should be on a well-drained spot; otherwise, it is better to make a pit on top of the ground.

Care for Chicks—Chicks started in fall or winter should receive as good as or better care than spring-hatched chicks receive. F. H. Leuschner, Penn. State extension poultry specialist, points out that all conditions should promote good growth and health.

Kill the Rats—Penn. State extension entomologist says that feed and food are too high-priced to let the rats eat and destroy the supplies.

They, therefore, urge neighbors to get together in planning and carrying out an community rat-baiting program.

MILK WASTE TREATMENT IS BEING STUDIED

Harrisburg, Nov. 16 (AP)—What is believed to be the first plant in Pennsylvania built for milk waste treatment is now in operation at Mill Hall, Centre county.

The plant was built jointly by the Dairymen's league and Sheffield Farms.

Construction of the $10,000 structure was ordered by the State Sanitary Water Board in line with the commonwealth's clean streams program.

Two engineering experts, Clifford W. Watson, of the Dairymen's League Cooperative association, and Dr. H. A. Trebler, of the National Dairy Research laboratories, were assigned to study ways of treating milk wastes for the new plant. Prior to their studies, there was no known economical and practical method of treating milk wastes. The Dairymen's league has submitted plans to the water board for similar waste treating plants at Springville, Lakewood, Mansfield and Spring Creek.

The parity price of the 1950 crop of Pennsylvania Type 41 cigar filler leaf tobacco will be seven cents a pound higher this year.

The parity price will be 29.3 cents compared with 22.3 in 1949. More than 90 per cent of Type 41 is grown in Lancaster county.

The step up in the parity price was brought about as a result of a 1949 Federal law changing the method of computing parity prices.

The Pennsylvania State college is planning two special short courses for farm equipment dealers.

The first course, a nine-week training course, is scheduled from November 27 to February 17. A one-week course on accounting and busi-

Files Libel Suit In Federal Court

Seranton, Pa., Nov. 16 (AP)—The editor of the "Tavern Talk," largest hotel publication in the nation, has filed a $400,000 libel suit in federal court here against Franklin Moore, president and managing director of the Penn Harris Hotel Harrisburg.

Plaintiff in the suit, filed Tuesday, is Halley K. Dickey, of Kansas ness forms for dealers will begin January 8.

The courses were requested by the Pennsylvania Farm Equipment Dealers' association.

City, Mo., who charges that a telegram sent March 6, 1950, and signed by Moore as chairman of the American Hotel Association Directory Corporation, "labeled both him and the magazine."

The complaint was filed by Attorney Carlton M. O'Malley and J. Julius Levy and says that the telegram contained "false, malicious, defamatory and libelous matter concerning" Dickey.

London, Nov. 16 (AP)—Foreign Secretary Bevin said Monday a Russian plan to end the armed occupation of Germany is "unacceptable."

Bevin hinted strongly that Britain will therefore reject a Russian bid for a Big Four meeting to discuss the removal of troops and the unification of Germany under a single government as proposed at Prague recently by Russia and her East European satellites.

WAR'S DEMANDS ARE VERY TOUGH SCRIBE ASSERTS

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)
The other day AP Correspondent Bill Shinn, a Korean, reported the mass execution by the South Korean army of 20 people convicted of collaboration with the enemy. It was a graphic and moving story about the shooting of 16 men and 4 women as they crouched in their common grave.
Arthur Frederick, editor of the daily Hampshire Gazette, of Northampton, Mass., writes me that some of his readers have registered strong objections against such punishment. They think imprisonment is more suitable for a nation like America, or South Korea, to inflict. Mr. Frederick asks for my view.
Well, I'm going to start by saying that I don't believe in capital punishment in peacetime. Furthermore I don't believe in war, excepting for defense.

Cites An Example
However, until human nature has been molded into the spirit of the sermon on the mount we shall have wars. They mean wholesale killing, and the exigencies of such conflict always have been held to demand the death penalty for traitors and spies. Collaboration with the enemy may bring disaster to the criminal's home army. Here is an example of the demands war makes:

I was with the British army on the Somme, in France, in that terrible spring of 1918 when the Germans all but broke through and ended World War I. That was the time when Field Marshal Haig, British commander in chief, issued his dramatic order of the day, calling for a fight to the death "with our backs to the wall."
The Germans were coming through so fast that British G.H.Q. at the time didn't know where its front lines were. In the midst of that death and confusion German soldiers, wearing British uniforms were infiltrating the shattered lines with devastating results.
Can't Humanize War
So the order went out that any British soldier who got separated from his unit, and couldn't explain instantly why he wasn't with it, was to be shot forthwith as a possible German. British officers used their pistols on many such individuals, and undoubtedly more than a few were British Tommies who had the bad luck to get lost.

That was tough—but it was a tough situation. The security of the British army was at stake, and that army was defending its homeland and the homelands of its allies.
Of course that incident lent a parallel to the Korean affair. I relate it to emphasize that the demands of war are harsh.
There is no use talking about humanizing war. It can't be done.

Venezuela closed her borders Tuesday and suspended civil liberties following the assassination on Monday of her acting President, Lt. Col. Carlos Delgado Chalbaud.
A dusk-to-dawn curfew was clamped on the oil-rich country's 4,000,000 population after the government announcement that Delgado, head of a three-man military Junta which seized control of Venezuela in 1948, had died of gunshot wounds.
"The Venezuelan embassy in Bogotá announced last night that Delgado had been surrounded by a score of men while driving from his home to the Presidential house, and taken to a building on the eastern outskirts of Caracas where six bullets were pumped into his body.
"An embassy spokesman said Rafael Simon Urbina led the attack and had been arrested with five or six other men. The spokesman said a state of siege had been imposed in Venezuela and that foreigners had

Orderly Loses At Russian Roulette

Indiana, Pa., Nov. 16 (AP)—The Indiana county coroner said a young hospital orderly was wounded fatally the third time he pulled the trigger of a revolver while playing "Russian Roulette" last night.

Dr. Edward L. Fleming gave the following account of the death of Fred Chapla, 20, of nearby Jasper, an employee at the Terrace State hospital.

Chapla went to the home of Austin Osman of Jasper and borrowed a .22 calibre pistol to take bear hunting. After being given the gun, Chapla asked Osman and his wife, "Do you know how to play Russian Roulette?"

Neither Osman nor his wife answered. Chapla inserted one bullet in the weapon's chamber and placed the muzzle against his head.

He pulled the trigger and there was a click—once more and another

REPORTS DIFFER ON WARMTH OF ARMY UNIFORMS

Tokyo, Nov. 16 (AP)—Are American troops warmly enough clothed in bitterly cold North Korea?

No, emphatically say a marine corps officer and war correspondents.

"If we don't get some equipment up there," complained a marine officer just returned from the rugged mountain country, "there is a good chance that those boys will get their heads punched in."

Yes, clothing is adequate for needs, the army's supply chief in Tokyo, Brig. Gen. K. L. Hastings, says conditionally.

"Faced with threats of trench-foot and frostbite, two enemies sometimes more dangerous than bullets, the U. S. quartermaster anticipated problems early enough to get to the fighting fronts the necessities with which to combat sloppiness, deep mud and freezing temperatures," said Hastings.

"x x x winter clothing was stockpiled early in Korea in sufficient quantity to equip all U. N. units."

As in all pursuits, the troops outran their supply lines with resulting difficulty in providing food, ammunition and fuel as well as clothing.

"In spite of this situation the Eighth Army has been and is issuing to advance units winter clothing as rapidly as the logistic situation permits and the season requires."

The 10th Corps, which the quartermaster says has "been fully equipped with suitable cold weather clothing" is fighting on the

BOY'S STEER WINS PRIZES

Pittsburgh, Nov. 16 (AP)—An 1,195-pound Hereford steer named Sam helped Gene Oates, an 18-year-old Ohio farm boy, to a triple win in the 18th annual Junior Livestock show.

Sam took two places yesterday—the grand championship of the show and the breed championship for Herefords. Another animal entered by Oates, who is a Future Farmer of America from Kenton R. 4, won the breed championship for short-horns.

The reserve grand championship went to Carl A. Logan, 17, of Irwin R. 3, Westmoreland county, a Four-H club member, for his Hereford steer, Buck. This baby beef also was runnerup in the Hereford breed championship.

Richard Hogue, Croton, Ohio, won the Angus championship, with second place going to Wayne Cooper of Fumell, Beaver county, Edward Johnson, Flushing, Ohio, won second place in the Shorthorn division.

Southdown sheep raised by Bradley Elminger, Waynesburg, won grand championship pen and individual honors. Jack Shober, Berlin, Pa., won reserve honors with a pen of Hampshire. In individual competition, Ben Hamilton, Washington R. 5, was second with a Southdown and Jack Snider third with a Hampshire.

The animals in the show, nearly 400 steers and 100 lambs, will be sold at auction.

"SMILE DAY" EXTENDS TO UN

Harrisburg, Nov. 16 (AP)—Harrisburg's annual "Smile Day" extended as far today as the United Nations organization.

Members of the Optimists club of Pennsylvania's capital city as usual distributed bright shiny dollars to citizens exhibiting smiling countenances.

But meanwhile R. A. Maxwell, club president, called on the U. N., in New York to recognize the power of the smile as a force for international amity.

In a telegram to Trygve Lie, U. N. secretary-general, Maxwell asked that the U. N., make full use of the "Smile bomb" as a counter-agent to the atom bomb and the hydrogen bomb.

"Smile Day" in Harrisburg is the highlight of the International Optimist Week observance here, running from Sunday through Saturday.
